Platform for Sustainable Infra

Transforming India's Construction Sector

Complex issues require innovative solutions. CFI members collaborate by reimagining infrastructure for better tomorrow.

Move forward faster with CFI.

CFI : AN ALLIANCE

The Construction Federation of India (CFI) was established in the year 2000 by leading civil engineering construction firms of India engaged in building dams, power stations, roads & highways, bridges, tunnels, seaports, airports, metros, and other basic infrastructures of National importance.

CFI is a representative body with a two-fold mission:

- To pursue comprehensive advancements across the construction sector.
- To tackle enduring challenges such as resolution of operational or policy level issues.

Since its inception, CFI has been committed to identifying industry challenges and shortcomings affecting project implementation. It has actively advocated for necessary amendments to laws, tax policies, and regulations at both the Central and State levels to align them as per the requirements of the Indian construction sector.

Vision

Bringing together India's top engineering and construction firms to redefine the sector with innovative designs and green practices. Embracing rapid technological and ecological advancements, to make architectural excellence synonymous with National progress.

Mission

To undertake all activities in areas of information, finance, human resource, education, research, technology, social welfare and community development for the attainment of its objects and to create a strong and competitive construction sector.

Importance of Construction Sector:

Construction activities are crucial to all sectors of the economy through their role in creation of physical infrastructure. They also enable value addition through creation of industrial and commercial establishments apart from the obvious role in improvement of quality of life through residential projects.

Construction component, on average accounts for more than a half of the investment required for setting up critical infrastructure like power projects, ports, railways, roads, bridges etc.

The sector has been instrumental in stimulating substantial growth in the construction equipment industry as well as a host of other down - stream industries that largely depend upon the activities of construction sector.

The approach

Conducting research-based advocacy for policy changes aimed at removing bottlenecks that hinder project implementation, ultimately fostering accelerated investment growth in infrastructure.

Advocating for amendments to laws, rules, and regulations at both the Central and State levels to align them with the evolving needs of the sector.

Identifying critical issues that negatively impact the construction industry in particular, and the overall project implementation process in general.

Compiling a comprehensive set of policies affecting the construction sector and creating a robust database for analyzing various aspects of the industry.

Engaging with Central and State Government bodies to effectively present the construction industry's viewpoints.

Representing the interests and concerns of Pan-India members across various platforms.

WHAT WE DO:

TAXATION DESK

The desk collects and disseminates information on tax-related matters, covering both direct and indirect taxes, along with any special levies imposed on the construction sector. It also ensures members are kept regularly informed about key judgments and rulings. Additionally, upon receiving feedback and comments, the desk submits representations to the relevant government authorities for remedial measures.

NEWS DESK

The desk keeps CFI members informed of daily news coverage related to the construction sector, as reported by the print media. This is further supplemented by relevant information and updates from online sources.
